About the HPFL

The Hampshire Premier League was founded in 2007 and achieved Step 7 status in the National League System feeding the Wessex League the following year. The Wessex League Premier Division feeds the Southern or Isthmian League first divisions.

Eleven of the founder members were clubs that had seceded from the Sydenhams Wessex League Division 2 and they were joined by 6 clubs from local football to form the Senior Division. At the beginning of season 2013/14, the League added Division 1 as the clubs in Hampshire League (2004) joined. The league also runs two Combination Divisions for reserve teams

Throughout its existence the League has been sponsored by Puma Engineering & Construction Limited of Southampton and their financial assistance has done much to allow the league to establish a sound financial base in such a short time.

The last time the HPFL took part in the Inter-League Cup it won against the Oxfordshire Senior League but lost to a stoppage time goal against the Worthing & District League in the next round.

In the current competition the League took on the Wiltshire League in the Preliminary Round in April and came away with an impressive 4-0 victory. However there is an almost completely new squad and management team for this game as promoted AFC Stoneham provided a significant number of players for the last game.

An Introduction to the Inter-League Cup

The FA Inter-League Cup is now in seventh edition having been introduced as the FA National League System Cup in 2003 to determine the England representative at the UEFA Regions Cup. For the 1999 and 2003 Regions Cups (England did not enter in 2001) the FA nominated the Mid-Cheshire League (now the Cheshire League) and the Kent County League respectively but from the 2005 edition onwards UEFA insisted that teams must win a domestic competition in order to qualify.

The NLS Cup was founded with league primarily at Step 7 in the National League System as this was thought to be the highest level at which most players were eligible to play (players must not be, or ever have been, under contract in football). Since then the competition has grown to include leagues like the SAL who play outside of the system. These leagues have thrived with the SAL winning the competition at the first attempt in 2008, the Isle of Man League winning twice and the Jersey Combination and Guernsey Priaux League (now the Guernsey Senior County League) both winning once each. Indeed, the Mid-Cheshire League's win in 2004 is the only one to date by a league within the 'System'.

Season	Winners	Score	Runners-up	Venue
